

Becky and Dena Taylor

will be reading in Corte Madera from

“Tell Me the Number Before Infinity”

The only book of its kind, told from two perspectives by a mother and a daughter. Becky was one of the first children mainstreamed into public schools under the 1975 U.S. federal law.

Join Becky and Dena who are touring, reading and celebrating their outstanding achievement together.

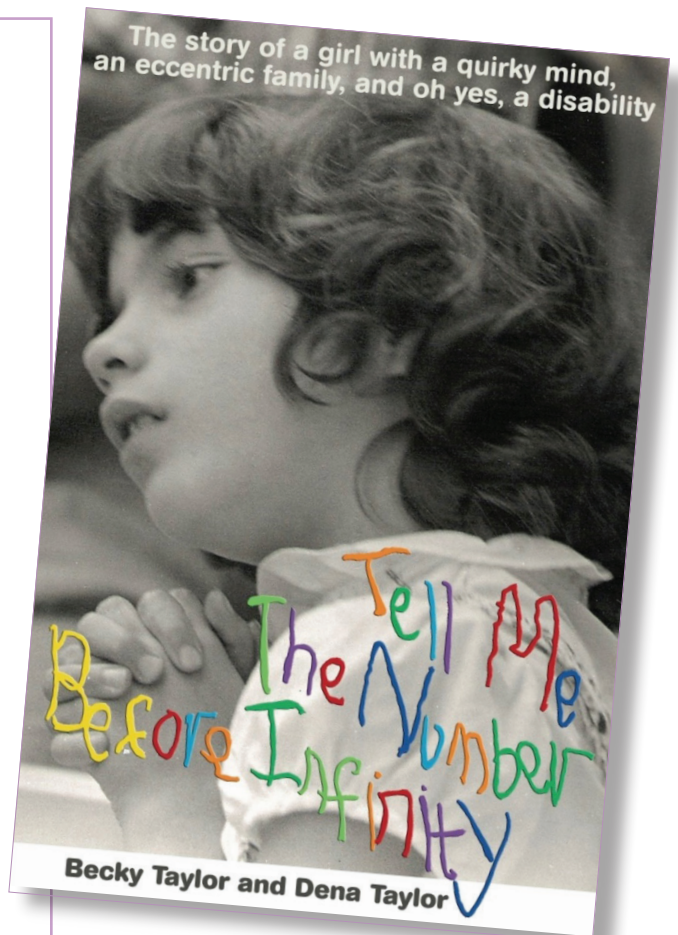

Following the reading, books will be available for purchase & the authors will sign.

Thursday, September 29

6:00 pm

Book Passage
51 Tamal Vista Boulevard
Corte Madera, CA 94925

PHONE:
415-927-0960

“...honest, moving, informative, often funny, inspiring...and just a plain old good read.”
—Kathryn Chetkovich, author of Friendly Fire.

“This book should be required reading for teachers and everyone in equity and critical disability studies.”
—Gloria Filax, Professor of Disability Studies, Athabasca University

www.TellMeTheNumberBeforeInfinity.com

published by Many Names Press. ISBN 978-0-9773070-8-1